Thank you Father Peter

Thank you Fr. Peter for all your hard work, time and talent in the construction of all the beautiful furniture in the church and offices. We are so blessed to have two beautiful altars, credence table, chairs, cabinets, ambos, welcome center, and the stunning resting place for our tabernacle in the chapel. We would also like to thank you for all your hard work in making the beautiful upgrade to our Sanctuary possible.

Pro-Life Tidings

Human life must always be defended from its beginning in the womb and must be recognized as a gift of God that guarantees the future of humanity. ~Pope Francis~

EVERYDAY STEWARDSHIP - RECOGNIZE GOD IN YOUR ORDINARY MOMENTS

What's Your Hearth Cake?

"Get up and eat, or the journey will be too much for you." I've been to a lot of meetings in my years of work in the Church, and you can take my word for it: the ones with snacks just seem to go better.

I don't know what it is exactly. Maybe it's just that people are in a more agreeable mood if you show up with donuts. Or maybe it's about the very real sense of community and camaraderie that is created at a table where people are engaging in that most human of tasks — eating — beside one another. I think a big part of it comes down to the simple fact that we're all just nicer people when we're fed.

This rings true spiritually, too. We simply must remain fed if we, in turn, are to feed others. Think of a time when you have neglected your relationship with God — when you haven't fed yourself with whatever it is that you need to remain committed to the journey of a Christian life. Is it Mass attendance? Is it prayer or Scripture reading? Is it time with your small group, or conversation with a trusted friend who knows your soul? What sustains your ability to be a good disciple, a good steward? What inspires you to give more freely, to love more abundantly?

Whatever it is, that's your hearth cake. That's your jug of water. Don't neglect it. The Angel of the Lord is nudging you in your sleep: "Get up and eat, or the journey will be too much for you."— Tracy Earl Welliver, MTS ©LPi

From the Desk of Fr. Peter

Peace to you!

The great prophet Elijah was filled with the Spirit of God and yet, in his humanness, he was discouraged to the point of death. We hear in the first reading how God encouraged him by sending an angel to speak to him and give him nourishment. The nourishment that Elijah received was more than just physical; it was spiritual too and it gave him the strength he needed to fulfill his mission. Because Elijah listened and received gratefully what God gave him, he was strengthened to accomplish God's will.

There are times in our lives when the burdens and crosses of daily life seem to get too heavy for us. We can be discouraged like Elijah and simply want to give up. There are times when we don't understand and we murmur, question, and doubt like the Jews in the Gospel story. Sometimes we grieve the Holy Spirit by allowing our bitterness and frustrations to move us to lash out at others with anger, harsh words, fury and shouting. The readings today call us back away from sadness and confusion. Instead, they direct us to receive strength through his Word, the Eucharist, and the life of the Holy Spirit within in us. Jesus, who is the Living Word of God, came also as Bread from Heaven so as to nourish us to life in communion of his own Spirit. The image of God feeding the people of Israel in the desert with manna during their forty-year sojourn to the Promised Land prefigures the fulfillment of the true Bread from Heaven sent in Jesus. Jesus comes to us with Words of encouragement and clear instructions, he gives us himself under the form of bread and wine to strengthen us. We are uplifted as the wind of the Spirit fills our hearts and souls to run joyfully as members of the Heavenly Kingdom. Our hope is made certain as we fix our desire on the true Promised Land of eternal happiness with God in heaven. The invitation that Jesus gives is to all! Our mission as God's prophetic people is to invite and encourage others to come with us on this great sojourn in which we find and share blessing and peace! God bless you always!

+++ Fr. Peter

Vacation Bible School Thank You!

A great big thank you to the teachers, adult volunteers and student helpers who participated in the Vacation Bible School this past week.

The children learned about the Holy Sacrifice of the Mass. They toured the church, played games to teach them about some of the articles we see during mass and adoration. There was lots of singing and dancing, crafts, lessons to teach them about the faith and the saints and of course delicious snacks.

Thank you to the parents, and grandparents and other family members for registering the kids and bringing them to church.

Please continue to pray for them and all our children as they
